ENTER.SAKE REVOLUTIONS

by Richie Hawtin | Rice Polishing 23%

A premium Junmai Daiginjo that starts with a graceful, elegant aroma and finishes delicately sweet and smooth. Tropical notes and a completely dry finish with slight minerality. Enter.Sake Gold Revolutions is finished by spinning in a centrifuge press similar to a record turntable. As the sake is slowly spun, the centrifugal force gently presses the sake yielding some of the smoothest sake possible Produced at the Asahi Shuzo Co. established in 1770. This is one of the only breweries in Japan that makes exclusively premium sake. In 1990, they made the radical move to only produce Daiginjo level, premium sake under the brand name, Dassai. Dassai uses only high-quality Yamada Nishiki rice to make sake with a clean and smooth style. Dassai has become one of the most prominent premium sake brands in the world. ENTER.Sake Shuhari Junmai Daiginjo contains no added sulfites.
