

GLENGLASSAUGH OCTAVES CLASSIC

Batch No.2 | Single Malt Whisky

Master blender Rachel Barrie has selected a small number of Bourbon cask octaves, Pedro Ximénez and Amontillado Sherry Cask Octaves, which are about 1/8th the size of a butt, to be bottled as part of the original Glenglassaugh Octaves Batch 2. The smaller casks allow for a more effective interaction between the wood and alcohol, giving the whisky great depth of flavour in a short time. Bottled at 44%, without cold filtering and with a natural colour.

Tasting notes

Color

Reddish amber

Aroma

Blossom honey and maple syrup. Cinnamon, muscovado sugar, coffee and dark chocolate, with lots of dates and sultanas.

Taste

This rare bottle harmoniously combines velvety notes of jelly sweets, tropical fruit & dark chocolate with roasted coffee and cedarwood.

Finish

The finish is of medium length with hints of wood and vanilla.