

DICTADOR GAME CHANGER GREEN

Richard Orlinski | Limited Edition Rum

Dictador Rum Game Changer Light Green is part of an art-driven collection created in collaboration with contemporary sculptor Richard Orlinski. The bottle keeps Dictador's iconic silhouette, finished in light green and topped with the distinctive Kong-head cork—presented here in a custom gift box for secure storage and presentation. HOW IS DICTADOR GAME CHANGER MADE? This Colombian rum is crafted from virgin sugar cane honey (rather than molasses), then distilled using a combination of pot stills and column stills. CASK AND MATURATION DETAIL The blend is composed of rums matured in American oak barrels, with the casks for this edition filled between 1999 and 2019. Matured in the Caribbean Sea, where coastal conditions help shape its layered profile. The blend is drawn from the Parra family's reserves and selected under the guidance of master blender Hernán Parra. WHAT FLAVOURS SHOULD YOU EXPECT IN THE GLASS?

Tasting notes

Aroma

Maple syrup and caramel, with orange peel, clove-like spice, and a light coffee-candy accent.

Taste

Fresh and balanced; caramel, roasted nuts, honey, and dried citrus.

Finish

Long, aromatic, and pleasantly sweet in tone.

The character of Dictador - Distillery Information Dictador is a Colombian rum house shaped by the Parra family's multi-generation blending tradition, pairing long-established know-how with a modern approach to limited, design-led releases. The brand's heritage dates back to 1913, with blending expertise central to its identity.