

RUM NATION DIAMOND

2005 | 11 Years | 2016 Release

Small batch, single cask Demerara rum, produced at the Diamond distillery in Guyana in 2005, bottled at cask strength in 2016. For this edition, only 473 bottles were released. This particular bottle comes from Cask no. 108. Each bottle is individually numbered, marked with the barrel number and the name of the distillery in which the rum was produced. Every bottle is sealed with an elegant glass closure instead of a standard cork pin. The tube completes the elegant presentation.

Tasting notes

Taste

The long aging in oak casks gave this rum its rich mahogany color and intense notes of raisins, which are complemented by char and spicy notes.

About the producer Rum Nation is an independent bottler of rums from around the world. The Rare Rums selection features a range of limited editions of only a few bottles, with very small allocations to each country. Throughout years different rums were tasted, only the best ones were chosen and launched as three limited editions, each bottling is different and unrepeatable.
