

GLEN MORAY 2007 / 14 YO

Samaroli | Cask No.5857 | 2021 Release

Nestled in the heart of Elgin, the Glen Moray distillery has been producing whisky since 1897. Renowned for its traditional methods and exceptional craftsmanship, Glen Moray specializes in light and smooth whiskies. With this bottling, Samaroli captures the distillery's signature complexity and delicate aromas. This whisky was distilled in 2007, aged 14 years in a single cask and bottled in Scotland in 2021. Samaroli Glen Moray 2007/2021 is a limited edition with numbered bottles.

Tasting notes

Taste

A classic, fresh, straightforward single malt with malty notes, slightly salty, fruity with a touch of oak.

About Independent Bottler Samaroli: Samaroli is probably Italy's most renowned independent bottler, considered a visionary by most. Impeccable taste and an eye for aesthetics have given numerous of his bottlings a worthy place in the pantheon of whisky and rum giants. Today the production is under Antonio Bleve's direction, who has collaborated with Samaroli for many years and shares the passion and philosophy of the house. Antonio Bleve continues his quest for exceptional casks, relying on the brand's historical relationships and new interactions, making their latest bottlings increasingly in demand.
