FINE GOODS

MACALLAN 1989 / 33 YEARS

Samaroli Magnifico | Cask No6690 | 2022 Release

Samaroli presents an old-style single malt whisky drawn from a single cask from the Macallan distillery. This whisky was distilled in 1989 bottled in 2022 at a perfect alcoholic concentration of 42.5% in Scotland from selected Cask No. 6890 Only 306 bottles of this rare and exquisite whisky have been released, making it a highly sought-after item among connoisseurs. Every step of its creation, from the careful blending of the alcohol to the selection of the wood and the passage of time, has been executed with the utmost attention to detail to create a true masterpiece.

Tasting notes

Taste

Elegant in full harmony with notes of honey, vanilla heather, ripe and unripe pears. About Independent Bottler Samaroli: Samaroli is probably Italy's most renowned independent bottler, considered a visionary by most. Impeccable taste and an eye for aesthetics have given numerous of his bottlings a worthy place in the pantheon of whisky and rum giants. Today the production is under Antonio Bleve's direction, who has collaborated with Samaroli for many years and shares the passion and philosophy of the house. Antonio Bleve continues his quest for exceptional casks, relying on the brand's historical relationships and new interactions, making their latest bottlings increasingly in demand.