BELUGA EPICURE BY LALIQUE

Noble Russian Vodka

Beluga presents a luxurious limited edition, that combines the vodka unrivalled taste with Lalique's splendour. Beluga Epicure by Laquique is dedicated to the brand's followers, true connoisseurs and passionate collectors. A tribute to the brand's values, the strive for excellence, traditions and craftsmanship. The decanter draws inspiration from heritage and highlights the mastery embedded in Beluga's commitment to creating the best vodka using only the purest water drawn from artesian springs in Siberia and malt spirit. Designed in an Art nouveau style featuring an enigmatic female nude figure surrounded by ears of wheat, a symbol of harvest and fertility. Handcrafted by artisans at the Lalique workshop in Alsace, France The blown crystal is shaped in an iron mould, polished to create a clear and satin finish, emphasizing the vulnerability and monumentality of each piece. The final touch is a unique individual serial number engraved on the bottom of each decanter.
