BELUGA VODKA GOLD LINE

Limited Edition | Leather Box

Ultra-premium vodka and limited edition bottling, made in Russia from a blend of the finest grain and the purest Siberian water. Beluga's master distillers, blenders, and tasters worked together to create an ideally balanced spirit, filtered five times for a refined and smooth taste. After a three-month resting period in steel barrels, Beluga Gold Line is bottled, corked, and secured with sealing wax. This edition is presented in a luxurious leather gift box. Each bottle has its own serial number and comes with an elegant hammer and brush to remove the wax seal from the cork. The bottle is then assigned a unique serial number to guarantee its authenticity. Beluga Vodka is Kosher Certified.

Tasting notes

Color
clear

Aroma
Delicate vanilla and citrus notes without the typical burn of distilled spirits

Taste
Round and lush with a creamy texture, filled with notes of oat, white pepper and lemon cookies.

Finish
Long and crisp with a subtle sweetness

This vodka is produced by a Russian Distillery Company in Siberia. The Gold Line is a special limited edition designed specifically for gourmets and connoisseurs of strong spirits. The production process is similar to the classic Noble Vodka, with some fine differences. At the beginning the Beluga-typical barley malt is mixed with artesian water from Siberian sources, fermented and distilled. To add the extra touch to the taste, the distillate is refined with rice and rose-root extracts and filtered five times before resting for several weeks. After the bottling process, the cork is sealed with a hot wax cap, very easy to remove thanks to the special hammer and brush included in the package, making opening the bottle a true ritual.
