

GLENALLACHIE 2008 | 13 YEARS

Speyside Single Malt | Swiss Single Cask

This GlenAllachie was distilled on 26 August 2008 and bottled in March 2022 at 13 years old. Billy Walker selected the cask for Switzerland, with an outturn of 696 bottles. It is presented at a cask strength of 52.8% volume, without chill filtration or added colour. MATURATION: The whisky matured in Oloroso puncheon number 2768. SUGGESTIONS: Serve neat in a tulip glass, with water on the side. Aged Manchego or toasted walnuts.

Tasting notes

Color

Deep mahogany.

Aroma

Dried fruit, dark chocolate and toasted nuts.

Taste

Dates, prunes and black cherry with warm cinnamon.

Finish

Long, dry oak and lingering spice.

GLENALLACHIE DISTILLERY Near Aberlour in Speyside, GlenAllachie was designed in 1967 by William Delmé-Evans for Mackinlay McPherson. Its largely gravity-fed layout was intended to reduce energy use, and production began the following year. Billy Walker, Trisha Savage and Graham Stevenson acquired the distillery in 2017. The first core range of GlenAllachie single malts followed in 2018, marking a change from its earlier role supplying whisky for blends.