The casks were then heavily toasted, lightly charred to augment their natural wood notes and seasoned with bourbon for four years.

Tasting notes

Color

Bright gold

Aroma

Fresh, floral with a herbal hint. Luscious mandarin and pear follow, with beautiful candy sweetness, reminiscent of mixed fruit jellies. A splash of water releases even more floral notes of carnation and geranium, along with some soft, buttery vanilla.

Taste

A zesty, citrus mouthfeel leads into a powerful burst of citrus fruits like oranges and lemons, kept under control by the thread of soft, sweet vanilla and fudge. The finesse for a whisky of this age is quite remarkable, with gentle spices, such as ginger and sweet chilli and subtle oaky notes.

Finish

Delicate notes of almonds, pear and cake mix.
